The European Origins of
John and Eva Cheberenchick

Presented by Matrixa Research Group

Research Notes

Research was conducted on the European origins of John & Eva Cheberenchick using primarily online genealogical databases and European history resources.

The objectives of this research were partially met. Further research is required to definitively identify what area and city both John and Eva grew up in and emigrated from.

Areas were identified across all source documents that reflected locations that would have been part of the Austrian-Hungarian Empire at the turn of the 20th century.

Today, these locations are located in the Southern Area of present-day Poland.

This is the first reference of a Wanio Czeberenczyck in any western bound passenger lists, Wanio was noted as John's name on his naturalization paperwork. While this could be our subject, age data does not match. Destination data does correlate with Eva's eventual residence.
